THE LEDGER Saturday last briefly noted the fact that Mr. Millard Marz had won his suit in the Fleming Circuit Court, which involved the question of peddler's license collected by the city. The case went to the Court of Appeals on demurrer and the City of Flemingsburg won its point there, which was to the effect that such licenses could be collected by the city from persons selling and delivering goods there as peddlers. The case then came back to the Fleming Circuit Court, and was tried Friday last on its merits, with the result that Mr. Marz was acquitted, as the Court held he was not a mere temporary resident or a peddler, but was selling goods from sample and that he had a right to do so.

A DELUGE

Of Rain, But No Danger of a Big Flood

There is no need of becoming alarmed at the spurt now on in the Ohio river. The rise in the past few days has been somewhat rapid and there is considerable water from above yet to come that will increase the swell, it is true, but there is plenty of room for expansion before we are menaced with another flood.

Two floods in one year in quick succession at that, is about all that's due us in one twelve months; then June is not noted for big water. Only once in half a century—to be exact, June 16th, 1858—has the river ever attained a stage out of the ordinary, and then it only reached 43 9 feet.

The river tide morning is 30.3 feet and rising, and may go beyond 40 feet before reaching its limit, quite sufficient to cause a great deal of damage in the lowlands and bottoms that have been tilled and seed planted.

August 6th, 1875, there was a flood tide in the Ohio that reached a stage of 55.5 feet, something that has occurred only once in 75 years and may never be repeated. As above stated there is no need to be alarmed about a flood.

MEDICAL SOCIETY

Holds Interesting Meeting—Dr. McCormick to Lecture in Maysville

The County Medical Society, which is in association with the National Medical Society, had its monthly meeting at the Council Chamber yesterday afternoon.

There was the usual attendance and the chief subject of discourse was Dr. H. K. Adamson's report of the recent meeting of the proceedings at Atlantic City.

Dr. McCormick, the able organizer of the medical profession of the United States, has announced his intention of visiting Mason County in a few days and give the Society here an account of the admirable work he has been doing in the Northwest.

It is to be hoped he will receive his usual hearty welcome on that occasion.

Every active and progressive practitioner in the county owes it to himself, his profession and the community, to be present on that occasion. Dr. McCormick is an able, practical and persuasive speaker.

MISS BARBOUR'S RECITAL

Maysville's Gifted Pianist Receives An Ovation at Washington Opera-house

The world is ever ready and willing and considers it a duty as well as a pleasure to take off its hat and make its best obeisance to talent and genius, wherever found.

Last evening at the Washington Theater, and before an audience of 200 persons, composed of the foremost music lovers of Maysville and scores of the young artist's friends, Miss Elizabeth Graham Barbour, Maysville's gifted pianist, met with an ovation and had the stamp of public approval put upon her talent as an artistic genius and mistress of the piano forte.

The handsome opera-house, ablaze with light, the gayly and fashionably dressed audience, together with the flower-decked stage, with the beautiful and picturesque settings, made a charming frame for the fair and queenly musician, whom Maysville delights to honor and recognizes as an artist of whom everyone in her native city can well feel proud.

Of the artistic mastery displayed by Miss Barbour, on her chosen instrument, we must let others besides ourselves also judge. But her execution being so charming and her delicate touch so faultless, it appears to the writer that her performance could not have been improved upon. The magic skill of her finished digital manipulation of the keys, together with the perfect ease, grace and composure, characterizing the true artist and musician, all combined to make her debut as a star pianist a distinct and a notable success.

Every number of the difficult program was faultlessly and charmingly rendered, and the finale of each rondeau met with hearty applause and numerous encores.

Following was Miss Barbour's program—

Sonata op. 7—Allegro (Moderato); Andante Molto; Alla Minuetto; Molto Allegro. . . . . Grieg
A Persian Love Song. . . . . Borodine
Minuet. . . . . Bizet
Walther's Prize Song. . . . . Wagner
Terpsichore. . . . . Chamisso
INTERMISSION.
Pecosie, C sharp minor. . . . . Chopin
Love's Dream. . . . . Liszt
Butterfly Waltz. . . . . Schubert
Appassionate Etude. . . . . Chamisso

HER ABLE ASSISTANCE

The young man in the painfully new suit gazed admiringly at the young woman whose immaculate lingerie waist and elaborately done up hair bore witness to the fact that his call had been expected. He was so shy, however, that he removed his gaze from her face quickly whenever she looked at him.

"No," she was saying, "Clara may be a nice girl and all that and some people think she is pretty and of course she is popular in a way, but I'd rather be unnoticed and plain-looking as I am if I had to be as heartless and selfish as she has shown herself to be."

The young man saw an opening, but his shyness hampered him. "Plain!" he repeated. "Why, nobody could call you that!"

The young woman looked as if he had fallen short of what he might have said, but she was used to it. "Look at the way she has treated poor George Peahody!" she went on, indignantly. "Any girl who lets a man grow to care for her and then deliberately throws him over—well, I have my opinion of her!"

"All girls are not like you," said the young man, with general regret. "They—they would think it smart!"

"I can't imagine a girl being like that," protested the young woman, with lovely sadness. "It seems so unmanly. I should think it would just haunt Clara, spoiling his life, you know. And, of course, she knew that he cared for her in spite of what she says."

The young man swallowed hard. "Is it—does a girl always know when a man likes her?" he asked. "When he hasn't told her, I mean?"

The young woman looked as impersonal as a judge. "Well, in most cases she does," she admitted. "That is, if

WINTER'S,

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

Deny That Tobacco Report—Never Declared That Brown Paper Was Being Used

A few days ago THE LEDGER published an article from an exchange, alleging all kinds of adulteration by certain tobacco factories. The item seems to be a fake, and in order to do justice to the maligned we take pleasure in stating that Dr. Harvey the United States Pure Food Commission, Edward K. Slater, commissioner of the Minnesota Pure Food department, have authorized the press of the country to deny the alleged news story, which originated in North Dakota and which was widely copied, to the effect that several brands of tobacco, among them English Curve Cut, Duke's Mixtures and Bull Durham, had been snafled by them and had been found to contain only from 10 to 40 per cent of tobacco, the balance of the mix-tire being brown paper, which had been saturated in tobacco juice.

The report was so sensational that many papers copied the item, and now the American Tobacco Company is trying to find out who started the libel.

Dr. Harvey and Commissioner Slater both deny that they ever made such analysis, and that the articles were entirely groundless, so far as their knowledge goes.

The tobacco company which was accused of passing off brown paper on the lovers of the weed, attribute the original publication to spite.

The only way to account for it is to charge it up to the weather, but it is an undesirable fact that the past ten days have been exceedingly dull ones, so far as merchandising is concerned. Notwithstanding Maysville merchants are exposing the largest, most select and handsome stocks, and counters piled high with tempting bargains, trade as above stated has been nil and the clerks have been standing idly around chewing wax and swapping compliments.

BATH SUPPLIES

The million pores of the skin are little sewers through which poisonous products should escape from the body. Few realize the importance of keeping them open or realize how much one's vigor and energy is increased by keeping them active.

A HEALTH RECIPE.

Every morning a quick sponge bath with cool water to which a handful of sea salt has been added; then brisk rubbing with a bath brush until the skin glows and the perspiration starts. It will double your accomplishment for the day.

"YOUR PERSONAL CHARMS"

A lady's taste is judged as much by the perfume she uses as by the dress she wears. It emphasizes her personality—if fine. The lady who adopts any of our perfumes secures an additional "personal charm" because it's the perfume of a "taste, of a person, in dress, carriage or "atmosphere."

We are in a position to show a line of perfumes unsurpassed by none, as we carry the leading odors of the foremost perfumers, such as Colgate, Wright, Parke, Davis, Freeman, Brooklyn, Higbee and others.

See our window display. Come in and we will perfume your haudkerchief.
